

Career Opportunity Production Operator

Job type: Full-time, permanent.

NephroCan Tejarat Sanayi, a medical device manufacturing facility located in Turkey near Istanbul, is currently seeking Production Operators. These are full-time entry-level positions with significant opportunity for growth and long-term employment within a stable and growing organization.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES AND ACCOUNTABILITIES:

- Operators will be responsible for maintaining efficient production and product quality.
- Efficiently monitoring and maintaining machines in collaboration with other departments will be key.
- Medical devices are produced in clean rooms following high standard requirements and GMPs (Good Manufacturing Practices).
- Responsible for converting raw materials and components into a product that can be delivered to the warehouse, based on relevant instructions and standards.
- Responsible for packing and coding products, semi-finished products, or pieces according to the operating instructions.
- Continuous cooperation with the Quality Department and laboratory to improve product quality and avoid producing defective and nonconforming products.
- Responsible for maintaining the equipment and machinery.
- Responsible for attending any educational courses or development plans effectively and efficiently.
- Responsible for reporting defective and nonconforming products, identifying causes, and proposing solutions.
- Familiarization and compliance with company policies and procedures,

REQUIREMENTS:

- 1 year of work experience in a similar or related field
- Candidates must have a proven operational aptitude
- Candidates must be self-motivated and able to multi-task
- Possess ability to work both within a team environment & independently

COMPENSATION:

- Monthly salary above the minimum wage + overtime

BENEFITS:

- Exceptional benefits including Extended Health
- Service transportation
- Canadian-based company